Succumbs to Supposed Overdose of Morphine,

RAY CLIFFORD IS ARRESTED

AMERICAN HOTEL HAS BAD REPUTATION.

As a result of an overdose of morphine, administered either by himself or another, Robert Lemmon, who was found unconscious in the American rooming house at 15 Commercial street | 4 Tuesday morning, died yesterday at the home of his foster-mother, Mrs. | Naomi Young, one of the widows of President Brigham Young. He never regained consciousness from the time he was found in the Commercial street resort until his death, and was unable to tell any of the circumstances surrounding the tragedy. Ray Clifford, the woman in whose room he died, and Ben Farrier are held at the city jail awaiting the action of the county jail awaiting the action of the county attorney.

At 9 o'clock Monday night Lemmon sought the room of Mrs. Clifford. Through the mazes of the tenderloin he wandered in search of the abode of the woman. Unable to locate the place, he asked the assistance of Ben Farrier. Farrier is a friend of the woman, but unable, through poverty, to afford his share of expenses, lives in the cellar of the American rooming house at 15 Commercial street. The woman, by means of the bounty of the government, occupies more pretentious ment, occupies more pretentious apartments on the second floor. Readily he agreed to show Lemmon to the place. Together they climbed the dingy staircase to the den of the woman. Farrier remained, but was easily persuaded to leave on the receipt of the price of a drink. Lemmon Found Dying.

Together Lemmon and Mrs. Clifford remained in the room until 4 o'clock in the morning. Aroused by the deep and irregular breathing of the man, the woman called the landlord and he, in turn, called the police. A partially emptied whisky flask and a bottle labeled "morphine," also partly emptied, were the only things found in the room except the furniture.

The officers tried vainly to secure the assistance of a physician, but were

The officers tried vainly to secure the assistance of a physician, but were unable until nearly 7 o'clock in the morning. Doctor Giesy, at that time, was secured, and remained with the patient until an hour later. Lemmon was thought to be in a better condition and was ordered removed to his home on B stret. The Florence Roberts company opens an engagement that runs until next Wednesday night, at the Salt Lake theatre tonight. "Zaza," the play in which Mrs. Leslie Carter made such a success, will be the bill for this evening. The advance sale has been large.

"Sapho," in the person of Florence Roberts, will make her bow to a Salt Lake audience in the Theatre Saturday night, and behind the announcement lies a story. As most people are aware, "Sapho" is of the French, Frenchy. That is to say, it has a greater or less number of risque lines and "business," as the individual work of actors is known.

Now, the Salt Lake Theatre is the property of the Mormon church. After the contract for the appearance of the Florence Roberts company, in repertoire thad been signed, the first presidency of the church, which likes to exercise a moderate censorship over the playhouse, began making some inquiries about "Sapho." Manager George D. Pyper was called upon to bear testimony.

Mr. Pyper is a modest man. He blushed vividly, therefore, when he told the first presidency about "Sapho." Of course, Mr. Pyper which was not mode the celebrated work a textbook, nor has he ever tried to fit himself for the leading male part by studying the lines of the play. He knew enough,

METEOROLOGICAL REPORT. Yesterday's Record at the Local Office

Yesterday's productions of the Gordon-Shay Grand Opera company are in bold contrast to the earlier performances. Throughout "Faust" there is the somber vein of tragedy which threads all of them, but the coloring of the musical and spectacular effects is richer. The groupings are more picturesque and the costumes are more striking and more pleasing to the eye. The same is true of "Il Trovatore," which the coapany sang at the matinee. The music of both scores is more comprehensible. It is possible to remember some of the lighter parts. It gets tangled in the memory and haunts you long after you have left the theatre. "Carmen" and the other numbers are too cumbersome to remember. You are inundated with the grandeur of the themes, but they can't be hummed if you are not familiar with them. of the Weather Bureau. Maximum temperature, 41 degrees: min eur of the themes, but they can't be hummed if you are not familiar with tham.

There was considerable curiosity to see what Miss Shay, would do with the part of Margarite. As the swaggering Carmen and the traic Santuzza she has roles well suited to her bold voice. Margarite presents an entirely different type of character. It is devoid of the audactous music so pronounced in the other operas and it requires gentler treatment. It is a part in which one fancies Helen Noldi might appear to better advantage than Miss Shay. Miss Shay's Interpretation, though rather bold at times, particularly in the garden scene, was nevertheless charming. If she sang with considerable fire over the discovery of the lewels, it must be remembered that she is overcome with pleasure at finding the casket and its marvelous contents.

Joseph Fredericks was an ideal Faust, He not only sang the part with admirable effect and his treatment was spiendid. One other part stands out consplcuously in this work. That is the part of Mephisto. Achille Alberti sang it well, but it may be questioned whether his work was sufficiently diablerie in treatment, notwithstanding that he is supposed to be rather a Jolly, good fellow at times. James Stevens was better than the average Valentine, and in the drinking scene he was encored. The performances have been well attended and the entire work of the company has been of a kind to establish it in the good graces of Salt Lake theatre-goers. Wolstenholme Coal Co., Tel. 495. LAWLER'S LICENSE.—It was exlained yesterday that the Salt Lake Srewing company has nothing whatever o do with the saloon run by George Commercial street and closed to do with the saloon run by George Lawler on Commercial street and closed Tuesday by the police. Lawler applied on his own responsibility for a license, the request was denied and the saloon closed.

SNOWSLIDE IN CANYON.—A snow-slide in the Big Cottonwood canyon de-layed traffic in the city yesterday for an hour and a half and suspended lighting operations throughout the entire city for that length of time. The steam plant in the canyon was demolished as a result of the falling of the body of snow and at least an hour and a half were necessary in repairing the damage.

the canyon was demolished as a result of the falling of the body of snow and at least an hour and a half were necessary in repairing the damage.

VIOLATED GAME LAW.—John Alfred, a German section hand, employed near Wood's Cross, got tired of railroad fare vesterday and went gunning for duck for dinner. He got the duck, but when dinner time came he found himself in the county jail partaking of beans and botatoes. John didn't know that there was such a thing on the statute books as a game law, and when his appetite called for duck he saw no reason why he should not have one of the many that were in the vicinity of the camp. He shouldered his gun and soon had a duck. Before John could get back to the camp a game warden caught him and he continued his travels to the county jail here. He will probably be released on $15 honds toway. THERMOMETER GOES UP.—Weather conditions experienced a decided change vesterday. The freezing temperature that has maintained for nearly a month was broken and the thermometer took a decided upward shoot. The consequence was that the streets are now flowing with mud and water, the heavens west contously and the city assumed a decidely rainy season aspect. During the day one-quarter of an inch of rain fell and from the prevailing conditions more rain or snow is expected today and tonight. The maximum temperature recorded yesterday was 41 degrees and the minimum was only 32, which has been the maximum for several weeks past. The mean temperature of the day was 10 degrees above the hormal. The storm was general through the western states, and it is expected to last several days.

MCLEILAN APRESTED.—Ed McCleilan, a young man who is wanted by the officers of several counties, was afrested and landed in the county jail here last night. He was taken into custody on a charge of stealing a cow and of passing bogus cheeks. According to the charges against the boy, he stole a cow from a neighbor and sold the bovine to a person in another part of the city, giving a bill of sale with her. Besides this

THREE hundred dollars buys a new iroom pressed brick house, cut stone foundation, bath, toilet, mantel, electric light, etc., on east side, ten minutes walk from business center. This means exactly what it says—$300 buys the place. That is all that the purchaser need put into it, from first to last, interest and everything else included. How can this be? Simple enough. By paying $300, and then renting the house to a tenant, the rent will pay the remainder of the purchase price. Not a cent more than $300 need be invested. The rent having paid the balance the purchaser will then own a property worth $3.000, free and clear. What better investment can be imagined for a young man or woman? It means $10 for every $1 invested. There is no chance about it—no looking for an ore vein. or anything else.
